One day, after lunching at Lake Placid Club, the largest and probably the most luxurious establishment of its kind in the length and breadth of the Adirondacks, he sat with a friend in the cool shade at the edge of the lake. A letter had reached him that morning from a man in England whom he had not seen for more than twenty years. It must have been a pleasant letter, for the memories it recalled induced in Sir George one of the rare moods when he put off his usual reserve and became an extraordinarily genial and fascinating talker.
