Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Child Welfare Symposium: Twenty-Five Special Papers Contributed by Leading Pennsylvanians As an adjunct to the direct work of the co-operative study of Pennsylvania child-helping agencies and institutions, whose results have been published, a topical symposium on child-welfare themes was arranged in order to record the plans, proposals, and conclusions of a number of the state s own citizens. The reports and schedules of the study dealt with numbers, methods, and conditions, rather than with causes, preventive agencies, and remedies. In the book based on material gathered in the study, the more general chapters on social themes and state relations express mainly the views of the author. But this collection of carefully prepared articles represents the child-welfare situation in Pennsylvania as seen from viewpoints within the commonwealth. Leading agency and institutional executives, and unofficial social workers, were invited to express their views, to state what they considered special needs, and to suggest remedies for existing ills. The favorable responses showed appreciation of this effort to secure co-operation, and resulted in twenty-five valuable papers, full of facts, ideas, and practical suggestions. It was intended to make the symposium truly representative of the varied child-caring interests and institutions. How well the effort succeeded may be judged from the list of themes and writers. The names of writers include state and county officials, agency and institution executives, and prominent private citizens. From the religious standpoint there are Jews, Catholics, and Protestants.
